

INFORMATION ABOUT THIS OFFER TO LEASE

OFFER TO LEASE (COMMERCIAL)

THIS INFORMATION IS INCLUDED FOR THE ASSISTANCE OF THE PARTIES ONLY. IT DOES NOT FORM PART OF THE CONTRACT AND SHOULD NOT AFFECT THE PROPER INTERPRETATION OF ANY OF ITS TERMS.

A. LEASES: Understanding leases is of the utmost importance in the operation and ownership of investment properties such as offices, retail stores, industrial buildings, and the operation and ownership of businesses. The leases establish the present and future income from the property and play a major role in determining property value. Leases form a significant expense for many businesses.

Offers to lease and leases tend to be complex and difficult to read, they should be read over carefully, as their terms and conditions will vary significantly from lease to lease.

When completed, the lease should include all terms and conditions that the parties have agreed to, and each page should be initialed by all parties to confirm that they have read and agreed to all of the terms of the lease.

There are a wide variety of offers to lease, meant to cover the multitude of requirements of landlords and tenants. This Offer to Lease is a generic document, and as such, it will not be suitable for every situation. Some situations it does not cover include:

- early occupation by the tenant or access during the fixturing period;
- tenant improvement allowances and other tenant incentives;
- right of first refusal or options to lease adjoining space;
- right of first refusal or option to buy the premises;
- parking, signage, or registration of the lease; and
- percentage rents.

Each of these requirements should be addressed by attaching a separate schedule with the appropriate wording reflecting the requirements of the landlord or prospective tenant in this regard. When complete, read it over carefully to ensure that the schedule contains every additional term that the parties have agreed to.

B. FLOOR MEASUREMENT OF COMMERCIAL PROPERTIES: Uniformity and consistency in carrying out floor measurements is very important. The “Standard Method of Floor Measurement for Office Buildings” used by the Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) and the Society of Industrial & Office REALTORS® is recommended by the Canadian Real Estate Association, and in the case of strata properties, the parties can refer to the strata plan.

Under the BOMA requirements, the rentable area of a multiple tenancy floor, whether above or below grade, is the sum of all rentable areas on that floor. The rentable area of an office on a multiple tenancy floor should be computed by measuring to the inside finish of permanent outer building walls, or to the glass line if at least 50% of the outer building wall is glass, to the office side of corridors and / or other permanent partitions, and to the centre of partitions that separate the premises from adjoining rentable areas. No deductions shall be made for columns and projections necessary to the building.

The rentable area of a single tenancy floor, whether above or below grade, should be computed by measuring to the inside finish of permanent outer building walls, or from the glass line where at least 50% of the outer building wall is glass. Rentable area shall include all areas within outside walls, less stairs, elevator shafts, flues, pipe shafts, vertical ducts, air-conditioning rooms, fan rooms, janitor closets, electrical closets, and such other rooms not actually available to the tenant for their furnishings and personnel, and their enclosing walls. Toilet rooms within and exclusively serving only that floor shall be included in the rentable area. No deductions shall be made for columns and projections necessary to the building.

INFORMATION ABOUT THIS OFFER TO LEASE

OFFER TO LEASE

To determine the number of square feet (or square metres) in a ground-floor rentable store area, measure from the building line, in the case of street frontages, and the inner surface of corridors and other permanent partitions, to the centre of partitions, that separate the premises from adjoining rentable areas. No deduction should be made for vestibules inside the building line or for columns or projections necessary to the building. No addition should be made for bay windows extending outside the building line.

In addition to the foregoing, it is also recommended that, in the case of industrial and warehouse buildings, the method of measurement now in practice be followed. For example, free-standing buildings with parking, loading, and some usable storage area around the building should be measured on an "out to out" basis whereby the outside perimeter wall is used to calculate the gross rentable area. In multi-tenancy buildings, the floor space is calculated from the outside wall to the centre of the party wall.
